

V.Orlandi: fast becoming the new name to spec

COLRAIN AND V.ORLANDI HAVE BEEN WORKING CLOSELY TOGETHER OVER RECENT YEARS TO PROVIDE THE AUSTRALIAN TRANSPORT INDUSTRY WITH QUALITY TOWING SYSTEMS AT AN AFFORDABLE PRICE.

The V.Orlandi turntables have one of the highest rating D-Values in a 2" pin in the Australian market.

V.Orlandi is renowned worldwide for producing quality couplings and turntables. Combining Italian quality with an engineering effort dedicated to designing and manufacturing products that can cope with the harsh Australian conditions, Colrain and V.Orlandi have steadily been growing their share of the turntable market.

“The expansion of the range is a natural progression and demonstrates Colrain and V.Orlandi’s commitment to supporting the Australian transport industry with high quality, well priced product alternatives.”

“We have seen a real change in the market, with a number of large fleets specifying V.Orlandi turntables in order to obtain a quality product at a reasonable price,” says Glenn Stone, Colrain’s Equipment Sales Representative. The V.Orlandi turntables have one of the highest rating D-Values in a 2" pin in the Australian market, along with a full height range across the three foot variants – pedestal, bolt-on and weld-on. The turntables are also available in either grease or auto lube and are suitable for central lubrication systems. Having an ISO bolt pattern makes the V.Orlandi turntables interchangeable with other brands, allowing end users and repairers to join OEMs in gaining the benefits.

As a result of its recent success Colrain is now excited to announce that it has expanded the range by offering the V.Orlandi turntable with a variety of mounting assemblies, including fixed plate, sliders and ball race (low profile, single and a heavy duty 90 mm road train rated double row ball race with a rating of 50 tonne, 240 Kn D-Value). All of these options can be fitted with any combination of turntable required.

“The expansion of the range is a natural progression and demonstrates Colrain and V.Orlandi’s commitment to supporting the Australian transport industry with high quality, well priced product alternatives,” says Glenn.

Hamelex White is just one of the trailer builders to have fitted V.Orlandi turntables to its new trailers. Craig Wallace, Hamelex White’s National Sales and Marketing Manager, says, “I have worked with V.Orlandi for many years and know the quality of their products. I believe they are a great match for the high quality tippers that we manufacture here at Hamelex White and the expansion of the range should create more opportunities to fit the product in the future.”
